Seven To Graduate from The Gladys H. Oberle School

(Fredericksburg, VA) – The Gladys H. Oberle School, a private alternative day school located in downtown Fredericksburg, will be holding their Graduation Celebration for the Senior Class of 2010 on Tuesday, June 15. The graduation ceremony will be held in the Fredericksburg United Methodist Church located on 308 Hanover Street at 12:30pm.

Graduating Seniors who attend The Oberle School come from different local school systems in the region. The 2010 Graduating Class includes Trevon Jackson, City of Fredericksburg Public Schools; Paden Horkan, Caroline County Public Schools; Michael Shelton, Fauquier County Public Schools; and Richard Davis, Joshua Kochel, Nicole Lehmann, and Shaquan Morgan, all from Stafford County Public Schools. “We are very proud to see them reach this goal that they have worked so hard to accomplish,” said Dawna Vaughn, Principal of The Oberle School.

Following the graduation ceremony, family, friends, fellow students, and school staff will enjoy refreshments and a time of reflection over the past year’s successes.

The Gladys H. Oberle School, a division of Employment Resources Incorporated, provides an educational curriculum for both middle and high school age students. The Oberle School partners with several area county school systems and the City of Fredericksburg to provide a quality education to local youth. The average student/teacher ratio is 4/1. “Our school provides students the opportunity to experience academic success and receive transition services to better prepare them for the opportunities that await them following graduation,” Vaughn said.

Employment Resources Incorporated (ERI) operates throughout the George Washington District and provides employment training and educational programs and services in the City of Fredericksburg, Stafford County, Caroline County, Spotsylvania and King George Counties as well as multiple cities and counties in the Northern Neck and Rappahannock region. Its’ mission is to provide youth with the education and skills they need to become successfully employed, self-sufficient and contributing members of their community. ERI also provides employment training programs and services to youth and the adult workforce and employers in the Commonwealth of Virginia.
